FREE TREATMENT AT CITY DISPENSARY

To Be Operated Under City Health Department

JOINT SESSION HELD

City Council Appropriates $10,150 For Sewers—Place For Wagons For Hire.

This city will hereafter have a city dispensary which shall be a part of the city health department and under whose supervision it shall be operated. The objects are to give medical treatment and advice to the indigent poor of the city and to persons suffering from other diseases, free of cost to the patient.

This action was taken by the city council at its meeting last night when an ordinance revising the health laws containing it was adopted. It provides that every year there shall be elected a clinician who shall be in charge of the city dispensary and in conjunction with same perform the duties of city bacteriologist. The clinician must be a graduate doctor of medicine and trained in the science of bacteriology. His salary shall be $2,000 a year.

Health officials re-elected at a joint session of council follow:

Dr. Louis E. Foulks, city health officer; Dr. Fauntleroy Flinn, clinician; Miss Sallie M. Jeffries, public health nurse. They were chosen for one year from July 1.

The Co-operative Charities reported that during the year to June 1920 they had issued 275 orders for groceries and fuel and that the number of applicants was less than the previous year. The report was referred to the finance committee.

The sum of $10,150 was appropriated for building sewers in different sections of the city, some of the petitions being standing for more than a year. They follow: $5,000 for sewer on West street from Cameron to Oronoco street and to Wheat and Suter's subdivision; $2,000 for sewer on Wilkes street west of Alfred street; $2,400 for sewer on Payne between Queen and Oronoco street; $750 for sewer on Henry between Wilkes and Gibbon streets.

Express wagons for hire and other vehicles for hire, which heretofore have stood on the west side of Royal north of King street, will hereafter be located on the south side of Cameron between Pitt and Royal streets, council having designated that place for them.

An amendment was made to the present traffic ordinance which provides that no vehicles be parked on Royal street between Market alley and Prince streets for a longer period than thirty minutes. Vehicles may, however, park in that space north of the market alley. This area heretofore was included in the congested area and in order to clarify the situation the amendment was added.

The street committee and chief engineer of the fire department recommended that all buildings for which a permit had been issued by council at the northeast corner of Alfred and Wilkes streets be covered with heavy metal and all obstructions in the street be removed and the report was adopted by common council. The aldermen, however, non-concurred and a conference committee composed of Messrs. Fletcher and Lawler and Harrison and Ballenger were named from each board and they recommended that all frame buildings for which no permit was issued be covered with corrugated iron and all obstructions on all sidewalks throughout the city be removed and the report of the committee was adopted. The removal of obstructions takes in not only this place but every place in the city.

A number of persons petitioned against granting the Alexandria Lumber Company a permit to install a gas tank at its place at the northeast corner of Alfred and Wilkes streets and it was referred to the committee on streets.

An adverse report was made by the street committee on the petition of V. M. Priest to erect a repair shop in the rear of 1022 Queen street and the report was adopted. The same committee adversely reported on the petition of the Southern Automobile Company to repair two-story barn in the rear of 529 and 531 South Alfred street and the report was adopted by a vote of 6 to 5.

Petition of H. H. Harris complaining of alleged disorderly conduct at a pool room in his neighborhood was referred to the board of police commissioners for action.

City Sergt. R. H. Cox presented a petition calling attention to the poor heating facilities at the city jail and submitted an estimate of $433 for necessary repairs and it was referred to the public property and finance committee. Resolution of Chief of Police Goods to appropriate $30 to stake off space in market alley for draymen was referred to committee on streets. Permission granted C. H. Arrington to place metal roofs on houses 333 and 335 North Patrick street.

Bid of William Desmond of $250 for plumbing at city jail was referred to public property committee and resolution to place arc light in center of country part of market was referred to light committee.

Invitation was received from W. F. H. Finke, chairman of the city school board, in which he stated the new colored school for children would be open all day June 30 for inspection of city officials and the public and it was accepted.

Council adjourned until July 6 at which time they will dispose of unfinished business and adjourn for the summer.

The newly elected officers will be installed July 13.

VOLUNTEERS OF AMERICA

Meeting With Considerable Success in This City

The Volunteers of America are meeting with great success in their work in Alexandria. The Sunday School last Sunday was crowded to the doors, and it was necessary for Captain Dawson to build temporary seats in order to accommodate the children who came, so that anyone who has on hand some chairs to give for this purpose will be putting them to the very best use. In spite of the inclement weather Sunday evening the crowd came and enjoyed a great evangelistic meeting.

The Volunteer Sunday School is providing an ice cream treat and a general good time on Thursday evening to the members of the school the regular list having 54 names on the roll. At the close of the treat the scholars will rehearse for the entertainment which is scheduled for the near future.

On his rounds visiting during the past week Captain Dawson came across several families where the children are badly in need of clothing and where there is need of food and medicine due to sickness. Many of the children would come to Sunday School if they had clothing, so the Captain is anxious for those who may wish to help in this way to communicate with him at once. He will be glad to call for clothing. The Volunteers are here to serve, and will do all within their power to relieve human suffering, or to dispense happiness. Captain Edward Dawson is in charge, and his address is 109 North Fairfax street, or he can be called by telephone Number 199.

BANDITS HOLD UP WOMAN

Miss McLelland is Robbed by Three Young Men; Fail to Get Rings

While driving south on Connecticut avenue bridge in an automobile shortly before midnight last night, Miss Rebia McLelland, residing in apartment 32, at 1413 T street northwest, Washington, was held up and robbed of $118.

As she was crossing the bridge three young men in another auto called to her that the rear light of the machine in which she was riding had gone out. Miss McLelland stopped her machine, and the car in which the three men were riding also halted.

One of the men approached Miss McLelland with a knife in his hand and threatened her with it if she made outcry.

He then snatched her handbag and took from it $118 in money, Noticing that she wore several rings set with diamonds, the robber attempted to draw them from her fingers. A passing machine frightened away the hold up men.

IN MEMORIAM

HILL—In sad but loving remembrance of our dear mother, MRS. ARAMENTA F. HILL, who departed this life, four years ago today, June 23, 1916.

Forget thee, it is a bitter word,
I wish it were unsaid,
Forgetfulness is not of life,
But with the silent dead.
The flowers I place upon her grave,
May wither and decay,
But love for her who sleeps beneath,
Shall never fade away.
We have missed you dear mother,
How we've missed you,
God in heaven only knows,
But we only hope to meet you dear mother
When our journey here on earth shall close.

Her ever remembering daughter,
Pauline E. Hill.

VIRGINIA "HELLO GIRL" DISTINGUISHED BY LENGTHY SERVICE

Miss M. J. Benson, Night Chief Operator At Alexandria Exchange.

Twenty years of continuous service as an operator and chief operator of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company is the distinction enjoyed by Miss M. J. Benson, of Alexandria, Virginia.

Miss Benson has been on night duty since she entered the telephone service, and for seven years she was the only night operator at the Alexandria exchange. In that time she has endeared herself to the telephone users of Alexandria through her courtesy and helpfulness. Possibly few in the town are better known than the pleasant-voiced little woman whose cheery answer has come over the wire during the still hours of the night for the past twenty years.

In these times of dissatisfaction and unrest, a record such as that made by Miss Benson is noteworthy. One of the difficulties encountered by the telephone company is the change in operating forces, necessitating the training of new operators.

When Miss Benson entered the Bell system in 1900, Alexandria had a three position switchboard, serving about two hundred subscribers and with three lines running to Washington. Today the exchange is a fifteen position board, with more than eighteen hundred subscribers and with twenty-six lines to Washington.

VALEDICTORY

At the request of a number of members of the graduating class of the Alexandria High School the valedictory delivered by Miss Virginia Schwab Monday night is herewith published. It follows:

Into every man's life there comes the moment of parting, and tonight class '20 we too have come to that moment. To say farewell is sad, to say farewell to one's dearest friends is the saddest of all sad things, and I feel that this is truly the saddest moment of our high school experiences, and for those of us who fortunately have been untouched by life's bitter experiences, it is the saddest moment of our lives. But as we look back over the years we feel that we have nothing to regret, for they have been beautiful years, beautiful in spite of the hardships, in spite of the sorrow that has come to many of us. And tonight as we look towards the coming of a new day, as our hearts throb with the knowledge that we are citizens of the most glorious land under the sun, that we are living and breathing the air of the divinest state in the union, that we are Virginians, Virginians with all that the word implies, we feel indeed that life is good.

And tonight at this our closing, I call to mind a verse written by Emerson, a verse especially appropriate for young people as with hearts aglow they go forth to meet the calls and demands of a new day. Quoting from our scholar, "Not in vain we live but every passing eye is touched and refined by the vision."

O, boys and girls, what a wealth of meaning, of glorious anticipation and sweet promise that verse contains. Not in vain we live—no, thanks to our Heavenly Father no soul is born on this earth to live in vain. Our lives may not bring us glory, they may not bring us wealth, but in the real, true record of life 'less here no place. It is the man who lives from day to day, doing his duty to God and man, in speaking the kindly word of cheer, doing the unseen deed of charity, in making this world a brighter, sweeter place to live in—It is this man and this man preminently who has not lived in vain. And although it's great to be famous, it's great to be wealthy, do not let these be the goal for which we, class '20 shall strive. Give to the world the best you have and the best will come back to you. And this "best" is the wealth for which we shall seek. It is not the wealth of kings and queens but the wealth of compensation. It is the wealth that neither "Thieves can steal, nor moths corrupt, nor the power of man destroy." It is not alone the wealth by which we live, but the wealth by which we live more abundantly. It is the wealth of the soldier boy who gave his all on Flanders Field. It is the wealth of the mother who toils from day to day in the lowly cottage, in short it is the wealth of giving one's best, of giving one's all to the world. And so, class '20, let us make it our decision that we will give our best, our all, to the world. Let us emulate the Christ, and then when we come to the evening of life we can truly say that we have not lived in vain.

And now I must say farewell. No one besides ourselves can understand what this moment means to us. Words cannot express the workings of the human heart. I shall say good-by now. Good-by class '20, may life's richest blessings be yours, may the years that are to come be even sweeter than the years that are gone. God bless and keep you all, class '20. Good-by.

Virginia Schwab.

WOMAN MURDERED

Children of Accused Cry in Vain for Mother's Liberation

Knoxville, Tenn., June 23.—Seven children, needing their mother's care, cried in vain yesterday for her liberty. The mother, Mrs. Belle Cox, charged with complicity in the murder of June 16 of her neighbor, Mrs. Elijah McGill, was unable to furnish the $2,000 bond demanded by the court. Elijah McGill, husband of the murdered woman, was being held without bond.

Hundreds of persons gathered in the schoolhouse yard here Monday afternoon for the preliminary hearing for McGill and Mrs. Cox. heard Eddie and Mollie McGill, 12 and 14 year old children of the murdered woman, tell reluctantly how a man wearing a black shirt with white buttons killed their mother.

Tears trickled down the boy's cheeks as he shielded his face from his father answering the prosecutor's questions. The man in the black shirt carried a pistol and a flashlight, Eddie testified.

"Who was he?" the lawyer asked.

"It was papa," the boy choked. The state took testimony from Eddie's sister, Mollie, and from Mrs. Elizabeth McDaniels, a roomer, who said she was with Mrs. McGill when the shooting occurred.

Mrs. McDaniels, whose recitals of the tragedy have been conflicting, said her previous statements had been made under fear of violence. She told of Mrs. McGill keeping her awake the night of the murder, saying she feared something would happen. The witness told of McGill's preparations, and how, when he walked into the room with a flashlight and pistol, his wife cried out, "What does this mean, Lige? You are not going to kill me, are you?"

Then the wife threw her arms about McGill, the witness declared, and then the man shot. Mollie McGill, 14, testified she was awakened by the shot and saw a man with a pistol standing in the door, but that she did not know him.

Tremendous interest in the case has been aroused here, and Charles Mincey, arrested on suspicion as a burglar believed at first responsible for the crime, had to be removed from the Knox county jail for safe keeping.

PROHIBITION ISSUE

Burleson for Repeal of "Absurd" Provisions of the Volstead Act

San Antonio, June 23.—The Democratic party in its platform to be adopted at the San Francisco convention must take an "open, honest stand on great issues confronting the country and, above all, avoid 'pussyfooting.'" Albert S. Burleson, Postmaster General, declared here yesterday. He is on his way to San Francisco as a delegate from Texas.

Mr. Burleson said he was in favor of modifying the "drastic and absurd provision" of the Volstead prohibition enforcement act; that he opposed government ownership of public utilities, excepting the telegraph and telephone lines, and that he was against measures denying labor the right to strike.

Mr. Burleson said the Democratic convention must come out openly and declare "our real feeling and belief on prohibition, government ownership, labor questions, soldier bonus and, most important of all, the covenant of the league of nations."

The Postmaster General declared he would vote for "repeal of the drastic and absurd provisions of the Volstead act, if I were the rankest prohibitionist in Texas." Some of the act's provisions are "so foolish they defeat their own purpose," he said.

"It is worthless to talk of repealing the act," Mr. Burleson declared. "That would be like butting your head into a brick wall. I do not believe in trying to do the impossible. But the ridiculous and unnecessary restriction can be stricken out."

VIRGINIA NEWS

At 1:30 o'clock Monday morning the passenger station of the Petersburg, Hopewell and City Point Electric Railway Company in Petersburg, was closed and three hours and a half later, or to say 5 o'clock, at which hour G. B. Mitchell, train dispatcher, came on duty he discovered that the glass of one of the windows of the company's office, which is in the station, had been broken and an iron safe containing in the neighborhood of $900 in money and passenger tickets of the railway company had been stolen and carried off.

Dynamite said to be in sufficient quantity to blow more than half of the city of Richmond off the map was discovered late Monday in a storeroom of the E. K. Vietor Co., 1800 Semmes Avenue, large tobacco dealers. The find amounted to between 30 and 40 pounds of the explosive, which had almost turned to nitroglycerin through age. Vietor, owner of the plant, was arrested during the war for his pro-German activities and interned at Fort Ogthorpe.

Lynchburg traveling salesman who recently made a trip down the Durham branch of the Norfolk and Western railway, upon his return reported that when the train was approaching Winfall, below Lynchburg, it was brought to a sudden stop. After a time passengers began to inquire the cause, and it developed that the engineer had seen a large fat opossum, and the thought of that animal snug alongside brown gravy and yellow yams was too strong to resist. He stopped his train and gave chase, but the opossum climbed a tree and the engineman went on across the North Carolina line deploring his hard luck.

The case is that of Bunkley against the commonwealth and involves many features of importance. The Bunkleys were operating a cafe in the city of Newport News and the allegation by the attorney for the commonwealth, Captain C. C. Berkley, was that the place was disorderly, the resort of the lewd, and that generally bad characters were frequenters of the place. The jury, however, returned a verdict in favor of the Bunkleys, but the judge, who had heard all the evidence, refused to enter the order in accordance with the verdict and entered an order which carried out the law as set forth—closed the place for a year and sold the equipment therein.

THE "HARMLESS" SPARKLER

An ordinance to prohibit the sale of sparklers, which already have caused three deaths among Philadelphia's children, was introduced into the City Council yesterday afternoon and then calmly scuttled at a specially called session of the Committee on Public Safety. The members of the committee seemed to think the blame rested with the Bureau of Police which should enforce present laws.

From the above it will be seen that the authorities in the city of brotherly love lay the blame of these distressing occurrences upon the police, who should see that all laws are enforced.

The police department of Alexandria are endeavoring to enforce the laws concerning the use of explosives and fire works in general. As is usual, they are meeting with opposition from certain quarters.

A man who deals in fire works and explosives brought specimens of his contrivances to the authorities Monday. Among them were "innocent" sparklers. He asked permission to sell such devices in Alexandria. Of course no one could grant him the privilege to break laws.

CHICAGO'S RACE RIOTS

When the first news of race riots in Chicago came East it was reported that 500 Abyssinians were involved in an effort to start a movement of negro Americans toward the great bastion of Northeast Africa. No one supposed there were so many natives of Abyssinia in this country and that supposition was correct. It is doubtful if there is a single one here, but the name came from one of those secret societies of which colored people are fond. The Star of Abyssinia seems to have been founded by religious fanatics with an eye to profit; or at least some prominent members have been made use of it for personal ends.

So-called Abyssinians, some of whom are believed to have been identified with the recent disturbances in Chicago, have been roosting in Washington. Several Alexandrians say representatives of these nomads visited Alexandria several weeks ago.

LABOR'S POSITION

While the convention of the American Federation of Labor refused to indorse a movement placing labor in politics as a party, its denunciation of the Republican platform, particularly in respect to the labor planks, commits the federation to the support of the Democratic ticket. What will happen if the San Francisco convention refuses to adopt Mr. Gompers' demands, which were rejected at Chicago, is not clear. The third party movement, with La Follette, Hearst and the committee of 48 as its sponsors, ought to attract the federation, since it specifically favors government ownership and operation of railroads and meets the views of labor in other notable directions, such as the right to strike against the government, abolition of compulsory arbitration and an advance in wages "wherever necessary." These are the Gompers' demands in a nutshell and would seem to be made especially to attract labor. The La Follette-Berger plank, however, squarely repudiates the league of nations, which the federation of labor has unequivocally indorsed, without reservations, at the direction of President Gompers. This is where labor deserts from its old time tenets and allies itself with the Wilson branch of the Democratic party, for we cannot forget that a respectable representation of house and senate is committed to the league, with reservations. After the unfortunate and costly experience of the government in operating railroads, we cannot believe that the Democratic party will be so unwise as to adopt the Gompers plank; if it should do so it will prove a serious handicap in the campaign. The people, we believe, irrespective of party, are not inclined to consider government ownership and operation of railroads for a decade or more to come.

What Is Nuxated Iron?

Physician Explains—Says Public Ought To Know What They Are Taking—Practical Advice on What To Do To Build Up Your Strength, Power and Endurance and Increase the Red Blood Corpuscles.

The fact that Nuxated Iron is today being used by over three million people annually and that so many physicians are prescribing it as a tonic, strength and blood builder in weak, nervous, run-down conditions has led to an investigation of its merits by designated physicians and others whose reports should be of great importance to the public generally. Among these is the statement made by Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and Westchester County Hospital, who says: "When one patient after another began asking my opinion of Nuxated Iron, I resolved to go thoroughly into the subject and find out for myself whether or not it possessed the real value claimed by its manufacturers and attested to by so many prominent people. This is exactly what I believe every honest, conscientious physician should do before prescribing or lending his endorsement to any product whatsoever. If an article is worthless we practitioners ought to be the first to know of it and if it is efficacious we are in duty bound to recommend it for the welfare of our patients. A study of the composition of the Nuxated Iron formula so impressed me with the therapeutic efficacy of the product that I immediately tested it in a number of obstinate cases. So quickly did it increase the strength, energy and endurance of the patients to whom it was administered that I became firmly convinced of its remarkable value as a tonic and blood builder. I have since taken it myself with excellent results. There are thousands of delicate, nervous, run-down folks who need just such a preparation as this but do not know what to take. Therefore I have urgently suggested the widespread publication of the sworn statement of the composition of its formula so that the public may know what they are taking. This complete formula is now to be found in newspapers throughout the country. It is composed principally of organic iron in the form of iron peptonate of a special specific standard and glycerophosphates which is one of the most costly tonic ingredients known. To the credit of the manufacturers it may be said that they use the most expensive form of iron peptonate, whereas by employing other makes they could have put the same quantity of actual iron in the tablets at less than one-fourth the cost and by using metallic iron they could have reduced the cost to less than one-twelfth, but by thus cheapening the product they would undoubtedly have impaired its therapeutic efficacy. In my opinion a careful examination of this formula by any physician or pharmacist should convince him that Nuxated Iron is to be placed among the very highest class and most strictly ethical preparations known to medical science. It excels anything I have ever used for building up the system and increasing the red blood corpuscles, thereby enriching and fortifying blood against the ravages of disease.

Are You A Slave to Housework?

Are you manacled to drudgery—sentenced to hard housework labor; to be oppressed by summer heat; submitting yourself to the arduous duties of housework like women still living in the dark ages of servility?

In the pioneer days both men and women faced their duties with Spartan-like perseverance because there was no alternative, but in those days both men and women were constitutionally fortified to endure the hardships and heavy work.

Progress and invention has recognized the demand for labor-saving devices and conveniences because men of today are attuned to efficiency and time-saving and women are nurtured for ease, comfort, for happiness, for efficiency in the conduct of home work.

Wise women will adopt these 20th Century methods of dispatching household work. Considerate husbands will insist upon it. Make the household work easy, practical, sanitarily and healthfully effective and comfortable.

Below are some seasonable suggestions:

Put The Ease in Efficiency With A Crystal Washer

That is exactly what this wonderful washing and wringing machine will do for any household. Do away with the terrors of wash day during the hot summer weather, making this day one of the most pleasant work days of the entire week.

ASKED TO CHECK STRIKE

Spread of Outlaw Tie-Up Alarms Railroad Unions and Federal Officials

Washington, June 22.—With outlaw strikes reported as developing at several important points, both railroad brotherhood heads and government officials yesterday appealed to President Wilson to take action to save the railroads from the worst tie-up that has yet been threatened.

President Wilson is expected to issue an ultimatum to the striking railway men tomorrow, and to order the Department of Justice to prosecute any man who may be implicated in the leadership of outlaw strikes.

Leaders of the new "outlaw" strike are believed to be Communists and members of the I. W. W., who have issued a call for a convention of railroad workers at Chicago on June 2 to organize one big union to supersede all present organizations of railroad workers.

FACING FOOD FAMINE

Richmond, Virginia and the United States face a food shortage of proportions verging on actual famine unless immediate relief is received by the agricultural interests. This is the opinion of Oliver J. Sands, chairman of the agricultural committee of the Richmond chamber of commerce and president of the American National Bank, Mr. Sands, who has just returned from the annual conference of the Virginia Bankers' Association, at Hot Springs, declared today that he has information that 54,000 New England farms are short of sufficient labor to harvest and market their crops.

Similar conditions prevail largely throughout the country in his belief, and to remedy this situation Mr. Sands is urging the government to take steps to divert labor from non-essential pursuits to the farms. Mr. Sands' committee has recommended that thousands of men in government employ now engaged in activities not vitally important to the welfare of the nation be encouraged to take up farm work temporarily for the national relief. Unless such steps are taken, he said, food conditions next winter undoubtedly will be serious, with higher prices resulting from the scarcity. The matter is now under the consideration of the secretary of the navy and the department of labor.

GIVE THE GROWING CHILD PLENTY OF VEGETABLES

Vegetables and fruits are now considered a necessary part of the diet of the child. The reasons are many, but most of them may be summed up by saying that they furnish material needed to form bone and tissue and to regulate body processes. The mild acids which some of them contain help to prevent constipation; so, too, does the cellulose or fiber, especially when it is raw, though its value for this purpose may have been exaggerated in popular literature.

Green vegtables are also valuable maens of introducing into the diet mineral matters, particularly iron, in a form in which the body can utilize them. Even at city prices green vegetables have been shown to be an economical source of iron. Leaf vegetables, like spinach, beet greens, kale, etc., have recently been found to contain some of the growth promoting substances that are found in milk.

The uses of fruits in the diet are much the same as those of green vegetables, though, unlike most vegetables, they have a considerable percentage of sugar, especially when they are dried, and sugar is a quickly absorbed fuel food. Like vegetables, they have value because they contribute some of the nitrogen required for tissue building and repair, and some energy, food specialists of the United States Department of Agriculuture say. However ,they are valuable chiefly because they supply growth stimulating and body regulating substances and also mineral matter needed for bone and for many other purposes. The quantity of these materials in fruits and vegetables is small, it is true, but large in comparison with the amount in many other common foods.

TO OUR COAL TRADE

Under present conditions our receipts of domestic coal are limited and prices are constantly changing.

We will be glad to enter orders; deliver the coal as promptly as we can secure it, and bill it to our customers on the basis of cost to us plus our usual gross margin, and this will have to be our policy at this time as everything indicates great uncertainty in the coal trade.

Our customers can be assured that we will do everything possible to keep the price as low as we are able to, consistent with quality, weight and service, and we shall be glad to have you entrust the business to us on this basis.

Giving Him a Fair Start

Mrs. Wilson is assisting at the daily rites performed before the altar of her grandson, Master John Edward Phillips, Jr.

"WHY, Molly, you don't give that poor little tyke a cathartic every day, do you?"

"This isn't a cathartic, mother. It's Nujol. It was the only thing I could use while the baby was nursing. I was terribly constipated, you know, just after he was born."

"Well, that's to be expected, I guess. I remember the trouble I had when you were born, dear."

"Oh, mother, I was in awful shape. I tried everything. And everything failed. All the laxatives and cathartics I was taking began to affect baby. He had colic and lost weight. My milk really seemed to poison him. Then the doctor ordered the Nujol treatment. You know the body doesn't absorb Nujol at all, and consequently Nujol doesn't affect the milk. It was an ideal treatment for my condition."

"Does it act quickly?"

"No—it depends on the individual. It took me several days, but since then I've been as regular as clockwork."

"How do you feel after taking it?"

"Nothing but good effects. You see, mother, Nujol works on an entirely new principle. Instead of forcing or irritating the system, it simply softens the food waste. This helps all those tiny muscles in the walls of the intestines, contracting and expanding in their normal way, to squeeze the food waste along, so that it passes naturally out of the system."

"Do you give it to the baby regularly now?"

"Yes, indeed. He's already started. The doctor says that every baby is born with a natural kink in his bowels—it has to straighten out naturally and Nujol prevents any obstruction there. It rather helps nature to help herself. This sample of the youngest generation is going to grow up with the conviction that Nujol inside is just as important as his morning bath outside—which it is. It's absolutely harmless and—See, mother, how he takes it."

"Regular as Clockwork"

Nujol is sold by all druggists in sealed bottles only, bearing Nujol Trade Mark. Write Nujol Laboratories, Standard Oil Co. (New Jersey), 50 Broadway, New York, for booklet "Thirty Feet of Danger".
